We are assembled here in the presence of these witnesses to celebrate the joining of this man and this woman in the unity of marriage. There are no obligations on earth sweeter or more tender than those you are about to assume. There are no vows more solemn than those you are about to make.

There is no human institution more sacred than that of the home you are about to form. True marriage is the dearest of all earthly relationships. The state of matrimony is based a deep, invisible union of two souls, who seek to find completion in one another.

Do you understand this?

Couple: Yes

Groom, will you take this woman, whose hands you hold, choosing her alone to be your wedded wife? Will you live with her in the state of true matrimony? Will you love her, comfort her, through good times and bad, in sickness and in health, honor her at all times, and be faithful to her?

Groom: Yes

Bride, will you take this man, whose hands you hold, choosing him alone to be your wedded husband? Will you live with him in the state of true matrimony? Will you love him, comfort him, through good times and bad, in sickness and in health, honor him at all times, and be faithful to him?

Bride: Yes

Rings

May these rings you give and receive be worn as a token of the covenant between the two of you. May you ever abide in peace, live together in unity, love, and happiness.

Exchange of Vows and Rings

As you take these I would have you remember that to love is to come together from the pathways of your past and move forward...Hand in hand, along the uncharted roads of your future, ready to risk, to dream, and to dare.... And always believe that all things are possible with faith and love in each other.

Couple places the ring of the other half way on the finger and repeats

Groom:

I Groom, choose you Bride to be my wife,
to love and cherish, from this day forward.

I pledge you my faith.

And with this ring, I thee wed,
Let it ever be to us a symbol of our love.

Bride:

I Bride, choose you Groom, to be my husband,

to love and to cherish, from this day forward.
I pledge you my faith.
With this ring, I thee wed.
Let it ever be to us a symbol of our love.

Let no one tear asunder what Love has joined this day!

Declaration of Marriage

In as much as you, Groom, and you Bride, have consented together to this union of marriage, and you have pledged your faith to each other now by the authority vested in me as by the state of State, I now announce that you are Husband and Wife!
